

What would you do?

-To save your family/yourself:

- From a first-floor fire in your home?
- If floodwater reached your front porch?

- If a tornado damaged your neighbor's home?

- To help your family, neighbors & friends when disaster strikes?

When disaster strikes, our First Responders cannot be everywhere for everyone. Wouldn't it be great to know that we, each of us, are prepared to help each other?

Seneca County Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) is sponsoring a weekend course to help you in a natural disaster. Community leaders are donating their valuable time to instruct these classes. The dates and topics to be covered and their instructors are listed on the reverse side of this form.

Completing the 20-hour course qualifies you to become a member of the Seneca County Community Emergency Response Team, responding to natural disasters after you help your own. The CERT team also participates in community events by providing security and traffic control. Learn how to give back to your community.

You will learn invaluable information to help survive a natural disaster. You will be able to serve your community to the extent that you choose. Cut off and send the attached registration form to be included in this class. Participation requires a commitment to attend all of the classes. Please bring a 1 ½ " binder notebook for your manual. Class size is limited, so sign up today and reserve your seat.
