The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has been guaranteeing bank loans to small businesses since its creation by Congress in 1953. The guarantees enable entrepreneurs to obtain long-term credit that otherwise would not be available on reasonable terms and conditions. The SBA guarantee loan program is an invaluable tool for people in business and those looking to start a business. Officials from other government agencies will be in attendance to answer questions and present about a variety of programs.

Come learn about how SBA financing can grow your small business. This program is free, but registration is required:
